Executive Women International brings together key individuals from diverse businesses for the purpose of:

- Promoting member firms
- Enhancing personal and professional development
- Encouraging community involvement

EWI was founded in 1938 to give businesswomen from diverse industries a forum for promoting their firms, enhancing their personal and professional development and engaging in community activities. Today, over 3,000 companies and over 3,500 representatives are members of EWI. With over 75 chapters located in major cities in the United States, Canada and Europe, EWI is the premier organization for networking and leadership development for today's professional businesswomen and their firms.

Turn Economic Anxiety into Energy and Innovation Continued

Try This:

- Download "Transforming Anxiety into Energy" for free at Mack's web site, and read more about how to unleash your staff's energy.
- Have a team meeting to talk about how Valentine's Day Sales (your product) went. They could be better or worse than expected – either way, your employees will want to know.
- Go to lunch with each of your employees, individually, giving them a relaxed opportunity to talk about what's on their minds.

You can find Wendy Mack's website at : www.wendymack.com.
